

ICYMI: Downtown vibrancy study, Lumber Liquidators, Binns and more

---

wydaily.com/business/2018/08/05/icymi-downtown-vibrancy-study-lumber-liquidators-binns-and-more

August 4, 2018

With dozens of headlines every day, it's easy to miss one here and there.

Get in on the conversation. Catch up on this week's top-read business stories on WYDaily here:

Downtown Williamsburg's future is taking shape as officials review consultant's study

---

Williamsburg's Economic Development Authority met Monday to sort out how to make the downtown area more vibrant and appealing. READ MORE

Prince George Street in downtown Williamsburg. (WYDaily/File photo)

Flea market 'with a twist' opens in Norge

---

Fourteen merchants have already joined a new flea market that opened in early July. READ MORE

Vintage glassware on sale at a merchants' booth in the Flipping Flea. (WYDaily/Andrew Harris)

Williamsburg picked as one of the top places to retire in U.S.

The small-town vibe, the variety of community events and quality healthcare are some of the reasons a national magazine has ranked Williamsburg as a top destination to retire. READ MORE

(WYDaily/ File photo)

Lumber Liquidators to leave Toano for Richmond

Lumber Liquidators is leaving Toano and moving its corporate headquarters to Richmond.
READ MORE

Lumber Liquidators headquarters is leaving Toano. (WYDaily/ File photo)

Binns of Williamsburg prepares to move to James City

County

---

It's been a staple of downtown Williamsburg for nine decades, but now Binns of Williamsburg is moving across town and across the city line. READ MORE

Binns of Williamsburg. (WYDaily/ Courtesy Google Maps)

Always be informed. Click here to get the latest news and information delivered to your inbox