

Clinton Received MILLIONS from Russia In Exchange For...

Those still defending the actions of career criminal Hillary Clinton deserve a medal for their stubbornness in the face of their obvious visual and moral handicaps.

What the liberal media once claimed was a far too cruel nickname in “Crooked Hillary” now seem like a farce. It would be as if someone were to describe the amicable, late children’s television icon Fred Rogers as “a tolerable fella” in that neither description comes close to scratching the surface on these two distinctly opposed public figures.

Now that Clinton has been forced into a retreat of sorts, having been irrevocably embarrassed by populist President Donald Trump during the 2016 general election, there is more muck being unearthed from beneath her feet than could be found in the Okefenokee Swamp.

Not only has Clinton been implicated in a number of scams to dethrone the otherwise successful Bernie Sanders during the 2016 primaries, but Clinton’s time as Secretary of State under President Obama has been tainted with a sort of rot that only her family’s brand of political shamanism can conjure.

Namely, Hillary’s hellacious “pay to play” schemes in which she would funnel money from foreign dignitaries into The Clinton Foundation, managed by her husband Bill and daughter Chelsea, in order for these same VIP’s to gain an audience with the most powerful women in the U.S. at the time.

Among these properly vile instances of corruption lies a doozy: The so-called “Uranium One” deal in which the foundation received massive donations in order to influence the Obama administration into striking up a nuclear arrangement with the Russians, who are now, of course, the enemy once again...mysteriously.

Just how much money exchanged hands in that treasonous abuse of power? Millions, according to new estimates.

“An FBI informant involved in the controversial Uranium One deal has told congressional committees that Moscow paid millions to a U.S. lobbying firm in a bid to influence then-Secretary of State Hillary Clinton by helping former President Bill Clinton’s charities during the Obama administration.

“The Hill first reported late Wednesday that informant Douglas Campbell gave a 10-page statement to the Senate Judiciary Committee, House Intelligence Committee and House Oversight and Government Reform Committee, and was interviewed for several hours behind closed doors by committee staff.

“In the statement, obtained by Fox News, Campbell said Russian executives told him that Moscow was hiring APCO Worldwide in an effort to influence the Obama administration and Hillary Clinton.

“Campbell said Russian nuclear officials ‘told me at various times that they expected APCO to apply a portion of the $3 million annual lobbying fee it was receiving from the Russians to provide in-kind support for the Clinton’s Global Initiative.’”

When Donald Trump speaks of “draining the swamp”, Hillary Clinton is precisely the sort of vermin that he intends to incapacitate.

This wholesale disregard for the safety of the American people at the behest of The Clinton Foundation is completely unacceptable, inexcusable, and more than illegal. It is amoral on a level that we have not experience in recent political history, and, quite frankly, the American people deserve answers and retribution for these crimes.

Hopefully, The Donald’s drainage will do the trick.
