

Hey! Guess What? It's The End of The World! Again...

When it comes to the apocalyptic visions of this planet that we are all quite familiar with from televisions and movies, there is perhaps a little bit of romance in being some of the last to see the planet.

Yes, it's true that the idea is morbid as well, but knowing that we all face the transition into the next plane together does seem to bring some comfort. I may not like you very much today, but the fear that some perceive in the face of absolution is something that I wouldn't wish upon my worst enemy.

And, over the years, we have bore witnesses to a number of supposed seers who have predicted the end of the world as we know it. Well, there's a new kid on the block in the doomsday game, and his name is Dr. David Meade.

Christian conspiracy theorist David Meade is the main expert suggesting the end times are here.

Mr Meade also predicts a mythological planetary system known as Planet X or Nibiru will appear in the sky on April 23.

He claims it will then pass the Earth in October, causing the start of the Rapture with huge volcanoes and volcanic eruptions due to its gravitational force.

This could sound familiar, given that a very similar theory was floated last year around this time, thanks to the same star formation that some believe was described in scripture.

The passage signals the start of the Rapture and the second coming of Jesus Christ.

The passage 12:1–2 reads: “And a great sign appeared in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, with the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of 12 stars. She was pregnant and was crying out in birth pains and the agony of giving birth.”

It is thought that Virgo is the woman from the passage.

On April 23, the sun and moon will be in Virgo, as will Jupiter, which represents the Messiah.

Experts at first dismissed this claim when they discovered this alignment happens every 12 years.

However, the conspiracy theories claim another planetary alignment, representing “the Lion of the tribe of Judah”, will make this time the Rapture.

Of course, this is far from the first time anyone has predicted that we would all be wiped out in cataclysm. There have been numerous claims over the course of the last two decades, stemming from the turning over of a new millennium, and the end of the Mayan Calendar.
