I am a retired Navy Chief Warrant Officer (25 yrs), patriotic and well-travelled, and an active high school teacher (18 yrs), with a master's degree, devoted to helping kids succeed, and, It gives me no pleasure to say, I have come to the conclusion that most of you educated people in this country have no clue about the real nature of humanity & the world.

I've lived in the Philippines, Indonesia, England, Italy, Hawaii... You've never even seen revolution, real poverty, or endemic national corruption. You've never been in a country with an actual dictator! You have no clue because the "horizons of your minds" are limited by nonsensical first-world problems of lattes, cell phones, cars, causes, and college classrooms protected by oceans and wealth. You are hyper-educated, upspeaking myopic morons with stacks of degrees, but not a nanogram of real knowledge about the nature of humanity.

When I teach poetry, I teach my high school students, "The first step in becoming an interesting writer is to live an interesting life."

If your experience is limited to the United States, high school, college, lattes, and an air-conditioned office or a teaching position... well, cool! You are entitled to your ideas but know that your ideas have no substance to back them. What exactly are your ideas based upon? What somebody told you! As Jimi Hendrix said, "Are you experienced?" If not, then quit thrashing around violently pretending you have a cause!

And what are you fighting? Elon Musk? Donald Trump? They are eliminating fraud, waste, and abuse! How is that bad? ...unless of course you're part of the fraud, waste, and abuse.

And Hamas? Hamas would murder many of you, protestors at Columbia, for religious reasons!

Are you fighting to include men in women's sports? Then you're fighting against women!

Are you fighting reciprocal tariffs? They're reciprocal, so they're in the hands of the foreign countries.

We, the majority of the American people, voted for Trump and Musk! Are you resisting the democratic-republican process? What about the “separation of powers”? Should the SCOTUS interfere with the Executive or Legislative branches? What about vice versa? The only reason The Law has been elevated to such an honored position is because she’s supposed to be blind. When hand-picked rogue judges from Podunk are interfering with the entire nation, the Commander in Chief, we have a problem. That isn’t how our country was designed to work....

Too, it is a direct reflection on your character that when your logic (logos), emotion (pathos), and associations (ethos), fail to persuade, you resort to name-calling (ad hominem attacks) or violence against people and property, or just as bad, you cheer for the violent?

You have not only lost an election, but you have also lost, ruined, and diminished yourselves to the point of ugliness.

I always thought, some ugly people are born that way, but many become ugly as an external manifestation of bitterness and hatred in their hearts.

It is sad and venomous to you and everyone around you.
