

Wittman: I'm fighting for constituents

During his State of the Union address, we heard President Joe Biden double down on his failed policies that have hurt the residents of Virginia and the American people. Over the past three years, we have suffered from skyrocketing prices, surging violent crime, an unprecedented border crisis and a weakened national security. I was disappointed that the president failed to recognize the state of our country. I had hoped he would present a plan to restore our economy and keep our children safe.

I've heard directly from constituents that record-high gas and grocery bills are making it harder for families to put food on the table and fill up their gas tank. There's no denying that it costs more to drive, work, and heat and cool our homes.

President Biden has enabled the worst border crisis in American history. Because of his open border policies and refusal to enforce U.S. immigration law, illegal border crossings are at an all-time high, fentanyl deaths are rising and crime has skyrocketed.

That's why I'm fighting to push back against the Biden administration's policies that harm Virginians, change the culture in Washington, and advocate for the families, law enforcement officers, veterans and brave U.S. service members of Virginia's 1st District.
