

Words of Wisdom for liberal morons...

I have BREAKING NEWS for all those that want to erase American history during the day or in the dead of night:

- If you take down every statue in the United States, slavery and the American Civil War will still have happened.
- If you have minimum wage skills now, taking down statues won't change that.
- If you're up to your ass in college loan debt, taking down statues won't change that.
- The nation will still be $20,000,000,000,000 in debt.
- North Korea will still be run by a lunatic who wants you dead.
- Radical Islamists will still want you dead.
- People who hate you now, will still hate you, perhaps even more.
- Soros, Obama and the Clintons will still be sleazy and corrupt and you'll still be just a puppet for them.
- The Department of Education will still not have educated anyone.
- There will still be only two genders.
- Hillary will still not have won the 2016 election.
- Bernie will still be a communist charlatan.
- There will still be opposing views outside your safe spaces.
- You'll still be accountable for your own choices, and the world will still owe you nothing.
- Taking down all the statues will still not change the fact that Communism has been responsible for more slavery and death than the Confederacy ever was and that it was Democrats who fought to keep slavery while Republicans fought to stop it.
- The removal of statues won't change the fact that the first slave owner was a black man.

So, if you have a problem with a statue of Robert E. Lee in Virginia, but no issues with a statue of Vladimir Lenin in Seattle, we'll erect a monument to your cowardice and depict a huddled mass of frightened and drooling idiots who can't find their asses with both hands and a map.

Oh, and Donald J. Trump will STILL BE PRESIDENT!
