

The CARMA directors would like to encourage more interaction on the CARMA BLOG. In order to facilitate this, and to make it EASY, the following steps have been taken:

A group login has been created for all the CARMA members who do not already have a Google login and password. This group login will permit you to log into the CARMA BLOG and read, write, and post. So whereas in the past you were only able to view the BLOG, now you can post your comments as well. It is requested, that when you post an article or any comments on an article, that you AT LEAST post your initials at the end of your text. This group login and password has been set up to make it easier for CARMA members to actively participate in online discussions. We are hoping this will encourage more interaction. It frequently seems at the monthly meetings that many folks would like to add their opinions on current subjects of common interest, well now you can! And there is no limit to the topics, just keep it clean!

Group Login = carmagroup@cox.net

Group Password = group123

BLOG Address = <http://www.carmagop.blogspot.com>

Upon entering the BLOG site, you may have to click on “VIEW BLOG” in order to see the current (latest) posting, and then scroll down to see prior posts.

To enter a new posting, or a comment, after viewing the BLOG, simply click on “New Post” and after typing your posting, please remember to enter at least your initials, then click “POST.”
